

Innovation, Internationalisation and Inclusion

Call for Papers I – Dialogia

Number 47 (November-December 2023).

The thematic focus of Dialogia issue 47 is "Innovation, internationalisation and inclusion". Given the advances brought about by the phenomenon of globalisation, we have seen impacts and new possibilities for the different levels of education, which have expanded with the advent of technology. In this scenario, with the different technological tools integrated into the various segments of education, institutions and educators have implemented innovative actions or projects for interaction between students, teachers and other members of the school community with their peers linked to educational institutions abroad. It is well known that these experiences provide individuals with greater opportunities to connect with different contexts and realities, thus enhancing their learning and the construction of new knowledge in different areas - political, social, historical, cultural, educational, among others. Thus, this Dossier will be constituted from studies and analysis of experiences that portray the principles, guidelines and potentials of internationalisation, innovative and inclusive practices in Education.
